THE NEWS OF THE DAY.

A FEW BRIEF PARAGRAPHS FOR BUSY PEOPLE.

The Flotsam and Jetsam of the World
Around us Portrayed in Condensed Items, Which Treat of Men and Things in a General Way.

Mgr. Bruchesi was consecrated archbishop of Montreal.

Detachments of the N. W. M. P. are being hurried to Yukon.

Winnipeg carmen won three out of four races at the Minnetonka regatta.

Montreal Liberals are preparing a splendid reception to Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

According to a United States estimate Canada produced $7,500,000 in gold in 1906.

The United States government issues a circular warning people from going to Yukon.

Senor Antonio Canovas del Castillo, premier of Spain, was assassinated by an anarchist.

Rev. Alexander Grant's body was found at Nepigon by his brother, Rev. James Grant.

A revivalist in Indiana fired several revolver shots from the pulpit, fatally injuring a child.

The Dominion government will reduce the size of Yukon mining claims from 500 to 100 feet.

It is rumored that Serbia, Roumania and Bulgaria are preparing to move against Turkey.

Albion Shaw has been appointed mayor of Toronto in place of Mayor Fleming resigned.

The directors of the Canadian Pacific railway have declared a dividend of 11 per cent on common and 2 per cent on preferred stock.

Manitoba millers have advanced the price of flour in Montreal 25 cents a barrel, the third raise within the past few weeks. It is largely due to the increased cost of wheat.

A Toronto dispatch says: The Imperial Development company has purchased property in Wabigoon and will spend $10,000 on buildings and development work this fall.

The Belmont Gold, Silver and Lead Mining Co., of Belleville, Ont., have made a rich strike in silver and lead on their property in Belmont township, Hastings county.

The American Spirits Manufacturing company have concluded a contract with the government of Venezuela for a monopoly of the spirits manufacturing business in that country.

Judge Tuley, of Chicago, has decided that the new city ordinance establishing a vehicle tax is void. The ordinance permitted Chicago to collect $1 a year license from each bicyclist and from other vehicles proportionately.

Joseph Bergerin, of St. Louis de Gonzague, Beauharnois county, Que., and formerly a clerk at Montreal, recently returned to that city after four years absence in Klondike with forty-seven thousand dollars in gold dust. He will return there next spring.

Dr. Fred W. Evelyn, the head of the St. Luke's hospital, has just made public the results of fifteen years' experiments, by which he claims he has found a certain cure by inoculation of horse blood, for drunkenness, as well as the transmission of hereditary taint of alcoholism.

It is understood the Ontario government are considering a change in the crown lands timber regulations by which lumbermen residing in Canada will be excluded from working in Ontario lumber camps, as a large proportion of the laborers employed in the Georgian Bay lumber camps come from the other side. This regulation if enacted will have an important effect.

A Sensation Brewing.

The Rosland Record says: A sensation, with arrests probably following, is expected regarding the jumping of the Winnipeg-Eureka group of three claims on Cariboo creek, by W. A. Swan and J. A. Durham the original locators.

H. Hilliard Leach, a barrister of Winnipeg, who is secretary of the Winnipeg Eureka Mining company, and Jas. Hadlock, a heavy stockholder, are in the city on a tour of investigation. They will leave shortly for Cariboo creek. "I am here," said Mr. Leach, "to investigate and take prompt steps to recover the property. It is a case of misplaced confidence on the part of one of the officers of the company, and we intend to take action immediately to remove the cloud from the title."

The claims were located a year ago by the present jumpers. It is said they were paid a certain sum of money and would retain an interest for the transfer of the claims. Swan was made vice-president, Hon. Mayne Daly is president and D. D. Burks treasurer. Swan and his partner pumped the claim on some technicality of law, presumably alleging that the licenses were not paid. Before the jumping, Capt. Webb was superintendent, and the corporation spent it is claimed, $500 on development work.

PERISHED IN THE DESERT.

Awful Death of a New Yorker Dazed by Its Shifting Sands.

Garrett E. Anderson, of New York, died on the Arizona desert after enduring the most terrible sufferings imaginable. He started with his wife to visit a son who is sick with consumption at Cave Creek, less than thirty miles from Phoenix, without a guide, believing that he knew the trackless desert sufficiently to reach his destination. All progressed well until he was within a few miles of his destination, when he was unable, from the slight wash of the burning sands, to determine where he was, and he began to wander. His wife and he had only a small canteen of water, which they were drinking rapidly. The heat was intense, the rays of the sun beating down in a manner that almost drove Anderson mad, and when the horse began to show signs of distress what little water remained was given to it. All that afternoon and Thursday night and Friday man and wife, drawn by an almost famished animal, wandered over the burning desert. Yesterday, J. A. Moore, a mining man, came across the tracks of their buggy in the sand. The zigzag course alarmed him. He knew from experience that someone was lost. Moore struck the trail holding it for hours, when he came upon the aged couple. Anderson, who is sixty years of age, was unconscious, while his wife was in a pitiful condition. The woman was revived by water from Moore's canteen, but it was impossible to force the fluid between the lips of Anderson, whose tongue was black from thirst and terrible heat. Mrs. Anderson could not speak. Moore tied their horse behind the buggy, and harnessed up his own horse to it, drove to the residence of Mr. Taylor of the Arizona canal, which was reached barely in time to save Mrs. Anderson. Mr. Anderson died on the way. She did not realize for hours that her husband was dead. The shock has prostrated her. The story she tells of suffering on the wild waste of sand and of the driving mirages that all but made them mad are most terrible to listen to, bringing tears to the eyes of the most hardened desert traveler. The desert north of Phoenix is one of the worst in the world, and one which, from the peculiar manner in which the "wash" lies, will deceive even those who have traveled it for decades past, and which no one should attempt to cross without a guide.

SINGLE TAX.

It is to be Tried in a Modified Form at Prescott, Ariz.

Prescott, Ariz., has adopted a modification of the single land tax, the city council having established a uniform tax of $2 upon each single lot, irrespective of improvements. The council acted unanimously upon the recommendation of the mayor, William O'Neill, who is an outspoken advocate of the single tax theories. In an interview the mayor said: "It is our intention to abolish all commercial licenses, which are merely taxes on industry and enterprise, and to increase the tax on real estate until the improvements and personal property are exempted from municipal taxation. The revenues of Prescott have heretofore been derived chiefly if not entirely from two sources: taxes and licenses. The first is paid by all classes of property-owners, the second only by those who engaged in mercantile and industrial pursuits. Through this system, in addition to the risks of loss through failure or misfortune in business, the industry of this class of men, who add wealth and prosperity to the community, are to a large extent discouraged. CATCHING CANADA'S FISH.

How American Dealers Work the Game With the New Duty.

A special from Erie to the Buffalo Express says: The ruling of the assistant secretary of the treasury upon the question submitted by the Sandusky Fish Company, of Erie, as to what fish were dutiable, settles a point at this port which is of benefit to the local fishermen. Under the McKinley tariff bill the large dealers were enabled to fish in Canadian waters by leasing their boats to Canadians and get the catch into American ports without paying duty. The fact that labor is cheap in Canada enabled the fish dealers to get their fish very cheap and that fixed the price for fish caught in American water by smaller fishermen, who could not afford to furnish twice for the Canadians.

The Wilson bill let the fresh fish in free of duty. The Dingley states that none but fish caught in the great lakes and fresh waters by American citizens can be admitted free of duty. The laws of the Dominion provide that none but citizens of the Dominion may fish in Canadian waters. If the dealers on this side bring in fresh fish from Canada now they must pay the duty of one-fourth of a cent a pound. Under the old regulations the Erie fish dealers brought into Erie anywhere from 50 to 100 tons a year and that at times killed the fishing in the waters of this side of the lake. The small fishermen are greatly pleased with the provisions of the Dingley bill as it will be some measure of protection against the Canadian labor, and the duty on fish will keep up the price on this side of the lake.

Disastrous Floods.

The cloudbursts and inundations which have recently devastated the eastern parts of Germany were the worst since 1870. According to the local statistics 10,000 people were killed in Silesia alone, and in Saxony the number of killed will not fall short of 180. The financial losses total up over 100 million marks. At Pillnitz, the country residence of the queens of Saxony, the river Elbe rose so fast that it flooded the lower floor of the royal castle, forcing the king and queen to flee hurriedly from the place and seek refuge at Dresden. Prince Hohenzollern, the imperial chancellor, who was then on his way from his estate at Ansee to Berlin, had to leave the train at Auer and was conveyed ten miles in a sedan chair to another railway station. Through a landslide of the highest summit on the Silesian mountains, the hotel Schenkeberg was carried down and buried with all its occupants.

Great Development.

The business of the C. P. R. land department has greatly developed during the current year, and the transactions of the last few months have been vigorously in advance of corresponding features in previous years.

A satisfactory feature of this extraordinary development, says Land Commissioner Hamilton, is the prompt payment of holders of land. A considerable portion of the arrears have been liquidated, and even on new purchases payments have been very satisfactory.

UNCLE SAM'S DOMAINS.

Peculiar Incidents Respecting Our Neighbors Across the Border.

A Cambridge, Mass., woman during several very hot days hired a small boy with a sponge to stand at a watering trough near her home and wet the heads of all the horses that came up to drink.

Because she was averse to exerting herself to the extent of going to another room after a needle, Gertrude Johnson, an Indiana girl used a common pin to prick a pimple on her face. The brass of the pin caused blood poisoning of a violent sort, and in twenty-four hours the girl was dead.

A Kansas farmer, who simply could not get his hands put this year upon his harvest, wanted. Hired girl hands and penial. Cabinet organ music in the evening. Pie three times a day. Three spoons of sugar with every cup of coffee. Hammocks, feather beds, or leather divans at your option for sleeping. Kissing hour 8 o'clock in the morning. Three hours' rest at noon. Come one, come all.

George Slauson nearly broke up his own wedding at Binghamton, N. Y., the other day, by his exceeding frankness. The ceremony had already begun, which was to make Matilda Hart his wife, when the clergyman asked him if he was willing to take the young woman for better or worse. Slauson scratched his head and said: "Yes, I'm willing, but I'd much rather have her sister." This made the bride-deer so angry that she jerked away from him and refused to allow the marriage ceremony to go on, but the friends of both parties interceded with the result that the marriage was finally completed.

Powder houses are not good places to camp in. William Fowler can vouch for this fact. He used such a building for a lodging place while out hunting, and although it had been abandoned thirteen years ago by the powder company, which formerly used it as a workshop, Fowler found that out by lighting his pipe while inside and throwing the sparks upon the floor. The explosion took off every inch of Fowler's clothing as thoroughly as he could have done it himself, and about a thousand times more quickly. He was not injured, however, although the building was blown to atoms.

The practice among young men in some localities of setting with their fists the matter of which was to have first place in the affections of any young lady in whom both happened to be interested ought to receive a set back from a case of the kind which occurred at Kokomo, Ind., the other day. Lavin Wilson and Irene Barnes were both suitors for the heart and hand of a fair young neighbor, and as she did not seem to show any preference, the two agreed to meet in the ring, and the one who was defeated was to clear out and leave the field free for the other. The fight occurred and Barnes won. The girl heard of the matter, however, and refusing to see Barnes, told Wilson she was willing to marry him. The accepted lover had the further satisfaction of seeing his former rival arrested and fined for assault and battery, the charge being made because of his part in the fight.

Get into the habit of looking for the silver lining of the cloud, and when you have found it, continue to look at it, rather than at the leaden grey in the middle. It will help you over very many hard places.—Willits.

RIGHT FROM THE MINES.

Family Ties May be Broken in the Grand Rush for Gold, but What's Wealth Worth? A Health, Dr. Agnew's Cathartic Powder is a Wonderful Cure. It Never Fails to Relieve in Ten Minutes.

Fred, Lawrence, of Trail Creek, B. C., writes: "I have used two bottles of Dr. Agnew's Cathartic Powder, and have been wonderfully helped. I can recommend it very highly to all sufferers from Catarrh." And here is another: "Mr. R. L. Egan, Eastern, Pa., says: 'When I read that Dr. Agnew's Cathartic Powder would relieve catarrh in ten minutes, I must say that I was far from being convinced of the fact. I decided to try it. I purchased a bottle. A single puff of the powder through the blowers afforded instantaneous relief.'

The greatest and noblest work in the world and an effect of the greatest prodence and cure, is to rear and build up a man and to form and fashion him to piety, justice, temperance and all kinds of honest and to worthy actions.—Tilston.

CHERRY'S TROUBLES.

Were of the Heart—Human Skill was Almost Defeated when Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart Fell into the Breach and in a Few Minutes After One Dose he Found Great Relief, and Five Bottles Made a Bad Heart a Good One.

Wm. Cherry, of Green Sound, Ont., writes: "For the past two years I have been greatly troubled with weakness of the heart and fainting spells. I tried several remedies, and consulted best physicians without any apparent relief. I noticed testimonials of great cures made by Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. I procured a bottle, and the first dose gave me great relief. The first bottle did wonders for me. After using five bottles there are none of the symptoms remaining whatever. I think it a great boon to mankind."

Intoxicating drinks have produced evils more deadly because more continuous, than all those caused to mankind by the great historic scourges of war, famine and pestilence combined.—Gladstone.

IT HOLDS THE KEY.

Insignificant Beginnings—But They Steal on One as a Thief in the Night, and Before One has had Time to Wonder What Ails Him He is in the First Group of Dis-eased South American Kidney Cure will Break the Bonds and Liberate no Matter How Strong the Cords.

The thousands of cases that have been helped, and cured by the great South American Kidney Cure is the best recommendation of its curative qualities. The remedy is a specific for all kidney troubles. The formula is compounded on the very latest scientific discoveries in the medical world. There are thousands today who do not fully say "I am living because I used South American Kidney Cure." It relieves in six hours.

A CLERGYMAN'S LIFE.

Has More Worries than the Public are Aware Of. Nervous Exhaustion the Frequent Outcome.

There is more worry connected with the routine life of the average clergyman than most people imagine. His duties are multifarious, and it is little wonder that he frequently becomes the victim of nervous exhaustion, insomnia, etc. In this condition Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act more speedily upon the nervous system than any other medicine, and promptly restore the user to a normal state of health. The Rev. Wm. Clarke, a rising young Methodist minister stationed at Oshawa, Ont., says: "I have derived great benefit from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I found that when I attempted to study, I would become drowsy and could not apply myself to my work. My digestion was very bad, and my nervous system seemed to be out of gear. At first I paid but little attention to the matter, but found myself growing worse. At this time I was stationed at Fort Stewart, and was boarding at the home of a storekeeper, who advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I decided to do so, and thanks to this medicine, I am again restored to good health. Under these circumstances I feel it my duty to say a good word for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure by going to the root of the disease. They remove and build up the blood, and strengthen the nerves, thus driving disease from the system. Avoid imitations by insisting that every box you purchase is enclosed in a wrapping bearing the full trade mark, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

A plaster made by spreading "Quickcure" on canvas flannel, linen or cotton, removes "pain in the back," more quickly than any known plaster, its effect is almost beyond belief. Excise now, instead of those plasters that contain the powerful poisons Arsenic or Belladonna, which should be used only when your physician permits, as your system might be poisoned by absorption of the drugs in these plasters.

It is only from the belief of the goodness and wisdom of a supreme being, that our calamities can be borne in the manner which becomes a man. MacLennan.

I suffered for days from a very severe attack of rheumatism and tried various remedies, several lotions, electricity, etc., with little if any relief, but after applying "Quickcure" as directed, the pain was much relieved and in a few hours had disappeared altogether. I can therefore, conscientiously recommend this remedy. Signed, W. NOBLE CAMPBELL, Notary Public, Quebec.

It is wonderful what strength of purpose and boldness and energy of will are needed by the assistance that we are doing our duty.—Scott.

"Quickcure" destroys the germs, and cures, that causes boils and carbuncles, reduces the inflammation and removes all pain; read what physicians, who keep up with the advances of medical science have to say about this, also in the Quickcure book (free at all druggists).

You may depend upon it that he is a good man whose intimate friends are all good, and whose enemies are decidedly bad.—Lavater.

Dr. E. B. Robinson, Montreal, Conned. Relief, writes: "I have used two bottles of Dr. Agnew's Cathartic Powder, and have been wonderfully helped. I can recommend it very highly to all sufferers from Catarrh." And here is another: "Mr. R. L. Egan, Eastern, Pa., says: 'When I read that Dr. Agnew's Cathartic Powder would relieve catarrh in ten minutes, I must say that I was far from being convinced of the fact. I decided to try it. I purchased a bottle. A single puff of the powder through the blowers afforded instantaneous relief.'

There is not a heart but has its moments of longing, yearning for something better, nobler, holier than it knows now. H. W. Beecher.

"Quickcure" cures toothache and all pain. Every dentist, without exception, who has thoroughly investigated this new preparation, endorses it, and prescribes it, in emergency, for all toothaches. Read Quickcure book (free).

Trust not him that hath once broken faith; he who betrayed thee once will betray thee again. Shakespeare.

Major J. S. Dunbar, Adjutant Royal Canadian Mounted Police, writes: "I have known of the merits of 'Quickcure' for many years."

O, what a tangled web we weave, when first we practice to deceive.—Walter Scott.

The Sisters of Charity, "Grey Nuns," Guy Street, Montreal, write: "Having made use of your 'Quickcure' in our establishment, we are happy to add our testimony, also in its favor."

A life spent worthily should be measured by deeds, not years.—Shelburne.

Spread a little "Quickcure" on the surface of corns and cover with thin paper; the soreness will be removed at once, as it reduces the inflammation which causes pain.

Cultivation to the mind is as necessary as food to the body.—Goreau.

Nothing equals "Quickcure" as a dressing for Burns, Scalds, Cuts or Wounds—read physician's testimony in "Quickcure" book (free).

Beware the fury of a patient man.—Dryden.

"Quickcure" cures cuts of all kinds, or lacerated wounds, applied early. It prevents blood poisoning.

Just as the twig is bent, the tree is inclined.—Pope.

"Quickcure" removes all pain, and reduces inflammation. Its effect is wonderful.

Degrees were Cheap.

In answer to a question on the subject in the English house of commons, Mr. Ballour said that her Majesty's government would consider the advisability of presenting on the charge of obtaining money by false pretences, agents of the so-called National university, Chicago, for offering to confer degrees for $5 each.

Terrible Heat in Texas.

The government thermometer at Dallas, Texas, recently registered the extraordinary temperature of 105 degrees, surpassing all previous heat records. Business was paralyzed, men and horses propped for breath. The heat was the most terrible ever felt in Texas, killing vegetation.

Local and General

School opens on Monday.

Mrs. Jas. Scott returned from Touchwood Sunday.

G. M. Bailey has lace leather for sale when you need it.

Mrs. F. Bell paid a visit to Balgonie Saturday, returning on Monday.

Mr. Gibbs, of Waseley, has accepted a position at St. John's College farm.

Miss Gray arrived home this morning from an extended visit to Manitoba.

Binding twice at lowest prices at Massey-Harris. Don't forget to leave your order.

Harvesting is now pretty general in this district and is turning out a good sample.

Dr. Size, of Regina, dentist, will be at Qu'Appelle Aug. 20th, for the practice of his profession.

Mr. Alex. McKenzie is busy moving into his handsome new store, which is now about completed.

Miss Talbot, who has been spending her vacation in California, is expected to arrive home Saturday.

Proceedings in the West Assiniboia election protest case have been dropped and Mr. Davis retains the seat.

Lignite coal, of excellent quality and inexhaustible quantity has been discovered in the Rainy River district.

Mr. J. P. Beauchamp, who has been on an extended trip east, arrived home Sunday morning accompanied by his bride.

Const. M. W. Fyfe, brother of Sergt. Fyfe of this place, is among the police contingent lately sent to the Klondike.

Thomas Skinner, of Katopwe, delivered at this point on Monday thirty-seven adult fine bees. Mr. Spiers was the purchaser.

A whip was picked up on the road leading to Indian Head one day last week. Owner can have same by proving property and paying for this notice.

Rev. Canon Flett, inspector of public schools, was in town this week on his usual rounds of inspection. He was much pleased to see that our school board had taken action in the erection of a new school.

We have been informed that the cemetery gates are being let open. This should be looked after at once, as the cemetery now contains some beautiful and costly stones, which are liable to be broken or damaged should houses or cows wander in.

It has been definitely stated that the Lake of the Woods Mining company will erect an elevator here as soon as possible, and have things in running order for this fall's crop. The Northern Elevator Co. are putting in an elevator at M. Leau Station.

The closing of the Protestant Sunday school, held on Tuesday afternoon, was the best, so far, of the season. The weather was most favorable, the attendance large, every one in good humor and all happy. The ladies deserve special praise. They worked like bees all afternoon, catering to the wants of young and old.

One of the cars on the east bound express last night was discovered to be on fire a short time before arriving here, and only for the prompt action of the conductor and train men serious consequences would have followed. On arriving here the car was run up to the tank and a few pails of water soon extinguished it.

We learn with regret that Miss Mable Talbot has resigned her position as teacher in our public school. Miss Talbot, we understand will accompany Mrs. W. Kirkland on a trip to England, where the respect of her many Qu'Appelle friends will accompany her. We wish both ladies a pleasant trip.

Souris, Man., Sept. 21, 1896.
Messrs. Edman, Bates & Co.,
Dear Sirs—I find your goods taking remarkably well with my customers and they appear to give every satisfaction, as indicated by the fact of our having sold one-half gross of your Kidney-Liver Pills alone during the month of August.

S. S. SMITH, Souris, Man.

Listowel, Sept. 22, 1896.
Edman, Bates & Co.,
Gentlemen—I have pleasure in saying that Dr. Chase's Ointment, Pills and Catarrh Cure and Linseed and Turpentine are selling well, and are giving every satisfaction. Many of my customers have spoken highly in their praise. Yours truly,

J. A. HACKING.

Martin Hooper arrived from Winnipeg Monday to superintend and put in place the memorial to the late Bishop Barn. The monument stands about fourteen feet high, is of white marble, with limestone base, and is a very handsome piece of work, a credit to the firm to which Mr. Hooper belongs. He also has put in place a neat stone pedestal to the memory of the late Mrs. Fisher. Several other handsome headstones arrived also and have been taken out to the burial ground at Edgely, one for the late Mrs. Gray and one for the late Wm. Capling.

The Royal Anacostia company opened here last night to a very poor house, which is to be regretted as it is one of the best entertainments that has visited Qu'Appelle in a long time. The pictures are simply wonderful and are worth the admission alone. The dancing and character acting was first class. Mr. Flynn in his Irish oddities kept the house in roars, while Mr. McLeod's singing and sketch work was very amusing. The company play here again to-night and we hope they will have a good turnout. The programme will be entirely new. The company will return in about a month.

Mrs. Peter Brown and Her Brown Dress.

Mrs. Peter Brown was a worthy and thrifty housewife, and though proud of her brown family she got tired of brown—we refer to brown colors.

Now, Mrs. Brown had a brown cashmere dress that she had donned on Sundays for fully three years. Going to church in sun, rain, wind and snow for such a length of time had discolored and faded Mrs. Brown's brown dress. The material still good gave Mrs. Brown hope that the brown dress could be changed in color and made to do service until times were better and money more plentiful with her.

Mrs. Peter Brown had heard of the marvellous Diamond Fast Black for Wool, and decided to experiment in the work of home dyeing. The dye was purchased from her druggist, and the operation conducted as per directions on the envelope, and what a transformation! A deep, rich and pure black, equal to the finest blacks produced by French professional dyers—a new dress at a cost of about thirty cents.

Mrs. Peter Brown's experience is just the experience of thousands of economizing women in Canada today. They find the Diamond Dyes so indispensable that home would be robbed of half its pleasures if they could not procure these great money-savers.

Mr. RUDYARD KIPLING contributes the following poem to the London Times:

God of our fathers, known of old—
Lord of our far-flung battle line—
Beneath whose awful Hand we hold
Dominion over palm and pine—
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

The tumult and the shouting dies—
The captains and the kings depart—
Still stands Thine ancient Sacrifice,
An humble and a contrite heart.
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

Far-called our navies melt away—
On dune and headland sinks the fire—
Lo, all our pomp of yesterday
Is one with Nineve and Tyre!
Judge of the Nations, spare us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

If, drunk with sight of power, we loose
Wild tongues that have not Thee in awe—
Such blasphemies as the Gentiles use
Or lesser breeds without the Law—
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

For heathen heart that puts her trust
In reeking tube and iron shard—
All valiant dust that builds on dust,
And guarding calls not Thee to guard—
For frantic boast and foolish word,
Thy mercy on Thy people, Lord!

The Times, alluding to this poem, remarks:—It is well that we should be reminded by a poet who, more perhaps than any other living man, has been identified with pride of Empire and with confidence in the destinies of our race, that there is a spiritual as well as a material side to national greatness. At this moment of Imperial exaltation, Mr. Kipling does well to remind his countrymen that we have something more to do than to build battleships and multiply guns.

Made It a Bargain.
"It's a swindle," she said. "The idea of charging four dollars for that!"
"That's the circumstances, madam," returned the doorwalker, who had been attracted to the spot, "we will make it $3.00 to you."
"Ah," she said, producing her purse; "that's more like it."—Chicago Post.

Artful Audacity.
"So Boracks is going to marry that aged Munn girl, is he?"
"Yes, and the funny part of it is that he told her he wanted to marry her on account of her fortune."
"Eh?"
"He told her she was too young and foolish to have care of so much money."—Indianapolis Journal.

I controvertible Evidence.
First Lawyer—Oh, yes, that's a very good scheme, no doubt, if you can work it; but how in the world are you going to prove that Benks ever was insane?
Second Lawyer—That's all right, my boy; trust me for that. I've just got possession of a bundle of letters Benks wrote to Miss Hardest before she became his wife.—Tit-Bits.

Merely a Subterfuge.
Attorney—What makes you newspaper men tell such lies about people?
Editor on the witness stand—We do it to avoid libel suits.
Attorney—To avoid libel suits?
Editor—Yes, the truth is the only thing that can't be proved in court.—Chicago Journal.

Paine's Celery Compound the Popular Medicine With the People and the Medical Profession.

Only a truly great and effective remedy could continue to hold its high place in the estimation of the ablest physicians and of the tens of thousands of busy men and women whose only means of judging is from the actual results in their own homes or among their friends. No remedy was ever so highly recommended, because no other ever achieved so many great victories over disease and death.

For feeding exhausted nerves, building up the strength of the body, giving a natural and healthy appetite, and as a promoter of refreshing sleep, Paine's Celery Compound stands today without an equal in the world. Mrs. Garland, 675 Crawford St., Toronto, gives her experience with the world's best medicine as follows:

"Your Paine's Celery Compound has most wonderfully improved my health. Before using it my appetite was poor—almost gone; I was also weak and debilitated, and suffered from pains in the head."

"Paine's Celery Compound does all that is claimed for it. I have recommended it to my friends, and they all speak highly of the results received from it. I wish Paine's Celery Compound the success it so richly deserves."

OF THE EARTH, EARTHY.

The radish to the mustard said,
"You're looking kind of queer."
Because so long you stay in bed,
And want the earth you're greedy."

The mustard answered, "Go to grass,
For you're a hollow heart."
When man discards his aims,
I tell cause his train starts."

The red-hot radish could not bear
To be thought slight and scorned.
And said with scorn, "Your partner there
Is a confirmed 'dead beat.'"

A melon vine observed the row,
And wisely ran away,
Nor did the pea the vine care to bow,
So climbed a pole that day.

The cabbage was a coarser kind,
And took in all they said,
And thought, "There's something in the wind,
And surely shook his head."

Of course the corn heard every word
With his young roasting ear,
And said, "Ah, shucks! It's quite absurd:
'Twill be a mess, I fear."

And then he laughed and waved a blade,
As though he'd like to boss;
The pepper heard the fuss he made
And was prepared for sauce.

Radish and mustard together grew,
Till the frost set in;
It ended as the many do,
By each one getting "piled."

—JULIA MAUDE ROONE.

They Didn'telope.
It was an old resident who hit the table at the club and announced that he would put an end to the scandal that he and his wife had eloped in order to establish the existing relationship.
"I was something of a shining light in the little town where I grew up and was married. I was especially prominent in giving order to weddings. I always saw to it that there were plenty of old shoes, rice, ribbons and bouquets. I sent word ahead to the hotels, decorated the trucks, notified conductors, followed the bride pairs up with telegrams that advertised their appearance at given points, and never overlooked a chance to give them all the annoyance sanctioned by custom on such occasions."
"There was a very prevalent disposition to get even when I committed matrimony. We were married in the parlor of my own wife's father and mother, by our minister and in the presence of our own circle of friends. I had several borrowed trunks placed conspicuously under the stairway in the lower hall. These were covered with lovers' knots in fully colored ribbons and to each handle was tied a slipper that had seen service. My friends did not forget me. We were to leave at midnight for the east. What we did was to creep stealthily down the back stairs, walk by the quietest route to the depot and take a 10 o'clock train for the west. The trunks we took with us had been smuggled out ahead and the decoys remained in the hallway. There was no blowing of horns or beating of drums and pans. The kazoo band sought in vain. Public sentiment was robbed of its vengeance and those who had planned to give us a rousing send off were too indignant for utterance. That is all there was on which to base a sensational story of elopement."

Had to Do All the Work.
"Come, come! Why don't you pedal a little? I can't push this tandem alone."
His Little Mistake.
"John," she said, and she looked at him rather sharply as she said it, "I have an idea that you didn't behave yourself very well while you were away."
"How absurd," he protested. "What in the world has given you that idea?"
"Well," she returned in a quizzical kind of way, "I noticed in the telegram you sent me you had paid the regular tariff charges on the words 'excuse writing.'"
—Chicago Post.

It Was Not Slang.
"I want you to give it to me straight!"
The man who issued the expression was not in the habit of using slang.
Neither did he use slang on this occasion.
He was in a hardware store.
He was buying a rule.
Obviously a crooked one would not answer his purpose.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Charles's Strange Mistake.
Old Mrs. Chaffie entered the parlor unexpectedly and spoiled a very pretty tableau.
"I was just whispering a secret in Osgin Jennie's ear," explained Charles.
"I'm sorry, Charles," said the old lady, gravely, "that your whisper has become so loud that you mistake Jennie's mouth for her ear."—N. Y. World.

ONE HONEST MAN.

To the publisher:
Please inform your readers that if written confidentially I will mail in a sealed envelope the plan pursued by which I was permanently restored to health and strength after years of suffering, nervous weakness, lost vigor, muscular discharges, and lack of development.
I have no scheme to extort money from anyone. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but, thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and sound, and anxious to make this certain means of cure known to all.
Unsolicited endorsements from my grateful friends who have been cured through my free advice:
Mr. Muford: "I saw your notice in the paper some time ago, and wrote you about my case. After following your advice, which you so kindly gave me, I am very glad to say that I am now perfectly cured. I wish to thank you a thousand times for your kindness."

"Heaven grant you a long and prosperous life, in the wish of a cured friend."
"Judge of my surprise to receive a kind letter of so valuable advice, absolutely free."
"I is the first advertisement that I have answered that did not ask me to call at the express office and pay for medicine that I had not ordered."
"I am happy to say that you are truly an honest man, and deserve the endorsement of both pulp and press."
In conclusion: I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. Perfect secrecy assured. Address with stamp: Mr. Wm. T. Muford, Agents' Express, P.O. Box 39, St. Maur, Montreal, Can.
